Thinking of a move, but can't see what you are looking for?

If you are thinking of moving to new accommodation, but are having difficulty finding something to meet your needs, then why not talk to us about building something for you.

We are always looking for new opportunities to bring back into use existing buildings or sites and would be willing to work with you to build something to meet your needs. Even if you want to own your property, it may be worthwhile speaking to us before you go much further – see what we have to offer under other services.

Or maybe something virtual might do?

Running your own business or organisation but don't need an office, or maybe you are based somewhere else but need a presence in Belfast. Well, a virtual office may be just what you need and we can tailor this service to meet your needs no matter how complex they may be.

Using the very latest in data and voice communication, combined with an office address and/or access to physical office space when you need it, you can have an office ‘which looks the part’ at a fraction of the cost of having full-time accommodation.
